Impressive Funeral Services of Elder Alma Harris,

Special Correspondence.

Logan, Cache Co., Aug. 12.-Funeral services over the remains of the late Alma Harris were held today in Logan tabernacle, and were largely attended by relatives and friends of the deceased. The speakers upon the sad occasion were as follows: Bishop Wm. B. Pres-ton, Elders Geo. O. Pitkin, Wm. G. ton, Elders Geo. O. Pitkin, Wm. G. Reese, Moses Thatcher, and Bishop A. L. Skanchy, who presides over the Sixth ward, where Elder Harris resided Each of the speakers testified to the true character of the departed, his love for truth, kindness toward his fellow. creatures, and constancy to God was a man who sympathized with the lot of women, and being of an inventive turn of mind had perfected several ideas which helped reduce the labors of the house wife, such as a labor-saving washing machine etc. Elder Harris will be sincerely mourned by his num-erous friends in this region.

MOAB. Court Cases-Drouth Worries Stockmen-May Cause Heavy Losses.

Special Correspondence. Moab, Grand County, Aug. 9 .- The weather for the past few weeks in this part of the world has been exceedingly warm, but the nights at present are cool and pleasant. We have had no rain to speak of during the entire summer, and vegetation of all kinds, out-side of the irrigated districts has been almost totally destroyed by the extreme-ly hot and dry weather, one of the alarming things that is presenting it-self at present, is the shortage of wa-men in this vicinity will meet with heavy losses.

The finer grade of Moab peaches are just ripening, the apple crop looks fine.

COURT CASES. The calendar for the coming term of and for Grand county, is quite extensive, with only one (prospective) criminal case on the docket, which is the case of the State of Utah vs Thomas Dilley, Judge Jacob Johnson at Price, Emer county, Utah. The case of Samuel N. King vs Grand county, litigation being over tell road franchise, will perhaps be the most interesting civil case.

Special Correspondence. Holden, Millard Co., Aug. 10 .- An enjoyable time was had on the evening of the 8th inst. in honor of the "News" correspondent, Harry P. Brown, who has taught school here successfully for the past four years, and is now going to his home and farm in Oasis. Un-der the direction of the Bishopric, a committee of young ladies was appointcommittee of young ladies was appointed, who made all the arrangements and preparations for the occasion. According to appointment, the people gathered at the meeting house at 7 o'clock p. m.; from there they repaired to the Relief Society hall, where tables were loaded h the bounties of life, all that could wished for, and that hands could prepare. It was necessary to set the tables three times to accommodate all. One would think from the abundance of good things provided that the drouth had but little or no effect.

It would have been still more pleasant

f about fifty absent fathers and brothers could have participatead in the festivities. That number of our cli-zens are now out in Nevada working; their absence is made necessary largely by the drouth.

After supper the people reassembled at the meeting house, where a spicy program was rendered, consisting of speeches, songs, recitations, etc, occupying the time until midnight, after which those feeling so disposed spent Compliments were freely indulged in for the splendid music furnished by the Heki sisters. In all, it was a grand time, as all expressed themselves as they retired for home.

FRANKLIN, IDAHO. SHOCKING DEATH.

Orson Neeley Falls Upon a Pitchfork and Receives Fatal Injuries. Special Correspondence,

Franklin, Oneida Co., Idaho, Aug. 10 .-Franklin, Oneida Co., Idaho, Aug. 10.—
A very sad and fatal accident happened here on Tuesday last at hoon.
Brother Orson Neely was hauling grain for his brother, who is on a mission.
He had a broken handled fork with which he was doing the loading, the bandle of which he had whittled hearly to a point. On coming down off the load for dinner he struck the fork the load for dinner he struck the fork in the ground and was in the act of jumping down when he miscalculated the distance. He slipped and fell upon the fork handle which penetrated his abdomen some five or six inches, indicting a frightful wound. Dr. Can-leld of Preston was sent for, who closed the wound and did all he could or him. Dr. Cutler was also called in both doing all they could to save him.
Their efforts, however, were of no avail,
for at twenty minutes past twelve
